

Report from
Ryan Klamot -Submitted for BUSAC meeting
(Senator)
Monday November 24th, 2008

As we move toward the end of another fiscal year, BUSU has indeed been able to maintain a strengthening position financially, and as a representative for all undergraduate students.

This year I sat on BUSAC as a councillor in the Faculty of Social Sciences, as well as holding a seat on the University Senate with a position in the Undergraduate Student Affairs Committee. I have also been sent to represent Brock at the Ontario Undergraduate Student Alliance (OUSA) conference in Windsor in October. These experiences have been extremely valuable in educating me more student government and policy. As a representative for BUSU I have listened to a variety of student concerns regarding many pertinent issues; 3rd year degree elimination and bus pass for example; and have worked to resolve these issues to the best of my ability. Many students, as well as our governance, are very worried about the extreme economic recession we have facing us, and as someone with a business and economics background, I will work with BUSU to make sure we reduce our waste as an organization and are able to stay in the black for another year. We must make conservative use of our resources in such a precarious time. I know Jody Thomas and the rest of our executive will be able to steer us in the right direction this year with their planning and revenue-generating expansion ideas.
